CEO MESSAGE

This year with the kind support of Mr. Sandeep Mehto we frame our vision and mission. This was not just an exercise but a flash back to what we did in past 2 years.

With every passing day there is a new learning, some of our initiatives turned into program. We are exploring more on the structure and working of the organization.

We also worked to strengthen our relations with our partner organizations specially UNICEF and Ekta Parishad. Also, we did a bit more on the part of collaborations and providing external support to ideas and initiatives by young people.

We will keep moving with the vision of Self Sufficient and Happy World keeping young people in center of the process.

- Mohsin Khan, CEO ANSH Happiness Society

PROGRAMMES

PROGRAMMES – SUMMER INTERNSHIP

Summer Internship is a flagship program of ANSH Happiness Society. We started as a space to accommodate ideas but on the journey found the lack of exposure among young people. Summer Internship is a 30 days journey where a group of young people learn about different flavours of life by directly coming in interaction with it.

This year we had more than 50 young people with us in two groups. Other than interaction this year we added events for them. They were divided into two group to plan two different activities/events. One was Children’s Day Out another was Grand Mehfil. Both the events went very successful giving inters a wonderful experience.

PROGRAMMES – MEHFIL

ANSH Happiness Society encourages everyone who is passionate for art & culture and invites everyone you to spread the love!

Mehfil is a space where artists come together, share their art, interests & passion through different forms of expression. Mehfil comes to you with opportunity where you could explore these with likeminded people. If poetry, music, literature calls out to you, this event is for you.

This year we brought Mehfil to grand stage where young artists made presentation from Semi Classical to Western Music. We collaborated with Maybe There as our venue partner and organized more than 25 open mic events. We also collaborated with institutes like NLIU and MANIT and organized Mehfil Campus.

MEHFIL SUCCEEDS IN MAKING AN IMPACT ON BHOPALITES

2016, a year ruled by Open Mic evenings

Mehfil was criticised when it began, now it is an established group in the city

DB Post Correspondent

Bhopal: The favourite musical Open Mic night of the city's youngsters, Mehfil, was held at Maybe There Cafe on Wednesday. The celebration also marked Mehfil's first anniversary. The theme of the musical night was 'Mental Health Awareness and Care giving'. The event was organised with a motive to profess optimism for those youngsters who feel left alone and are often compelled to take steps that they might regret later.

True to the adage of music being an instant mood-lifter, the event saw a huge turnout of enthusiasts and Mehfil fans. The first performance was given by Dehora, a vocalist, who performed a medley of Bollywood and Hollywood songs; the audience sung along with the artiste with full enthusiasm.

Several poetry recitals were also part of the event. Poets Ankit Gupta and Nishant mesmerised the audience with their compositions on diverse subjects like romance, patriotism and current issues.

Gupta said, "My poems and verses are as beautiful as the historic city of Bhopal. My pen name 'Aseer' was awarded by Kaviyatri Vishakha "Vidhu". I enjoy writing poetry in Hindi and Urdu but for Mehfil's first anniversary, I also tried my hand at English poetry." Yuvraj, co-ordinator of Mehfil said, "When we began a year ago, people criticised us, but today, the same people have turned into fans. This feeling of achieving something is beyond description. We hope to continue entertaining fans with the same zeal."

Samiksha Nigam @dbpostnews

Bhopal: A new theatre group 'Kaafila' is an upcoming theatre platform for the youth and by the youth, that will be launched in Bhopal on August 6. It is a fresh initiative by Ansh Happiness Society. The group is being co-ordinated by three youngsters, Pooja Malviya, Ashish Sharma and Sahil Khan.

All other theatre groups are majorly focusing on any particular genre. Here, global theatre is the main focus. There will be less chances of barriers of hesitation as the plan is that no one will act like a teacher here. It will be jamming. Artistes will learn different aspects of theatre including acting, script-writing, music, dance, choreography, movements, set designing, costumes, make-up, lighting and prop designing.

Budding artistes to benefit from combined studies

Mohsin Khan, co-ordinator of Ansh Happiness Society, said Kaafila is their new initiative. They are promoting platforms for the youth in a variety of fields. Recently, the society promoted Mehfil, which is popular among youngsters. After musical platforms, poetics and photography workshops, theatre for youngsters from youngsters is the thought behind Kaafila, where anyone who knows any different style of theatre or related skill can join and teach others.

PROGRAMMES – EKTA-ANSH

EKTA-ANSH is a unique program came out from the partnership of ANSH Happiness Society with Ekta Parishad.

Ekta Parishad is an organization working in Rural India majorly with landless people. With this partnership we are trying to create such spaces where urban youth can learn more about the issues of Rural India, Peace & Non-violence and also to create a space to bridge the gap between rural and urban.

This year we organized various interactive sessions with speakers from India and Abroad. This include Ms. Anuradha Shankar Singh (ADGP, MP Police), A group of women came for International Women Conference, Ms. Jill Carr Harris, etc.

We also connect youth to various camps bring organized in Bhopal and outside through Ekta Parishad.

PROGRAMMES – YOUTH FOR CHILDREN

This year with the support of UNICEF we came up with Youth for Children program in Bhopal. In this program we identified a group of young people. To identify this group went through a process in which we also visited various institutions in Bhopal and interacted with the students about the concept of Y4C. We got a very good response from institutes like Jagran Lakecity University, BSSS College, etc.

The group of young volunteers formed who had a series of interactive sessions, exercise, visits, etc.

Later on they divided into two groups and identify two different areas in Bhopal to study the impact of different things on children and their development,

The group organized various events, activities which ensure a good participation of children.

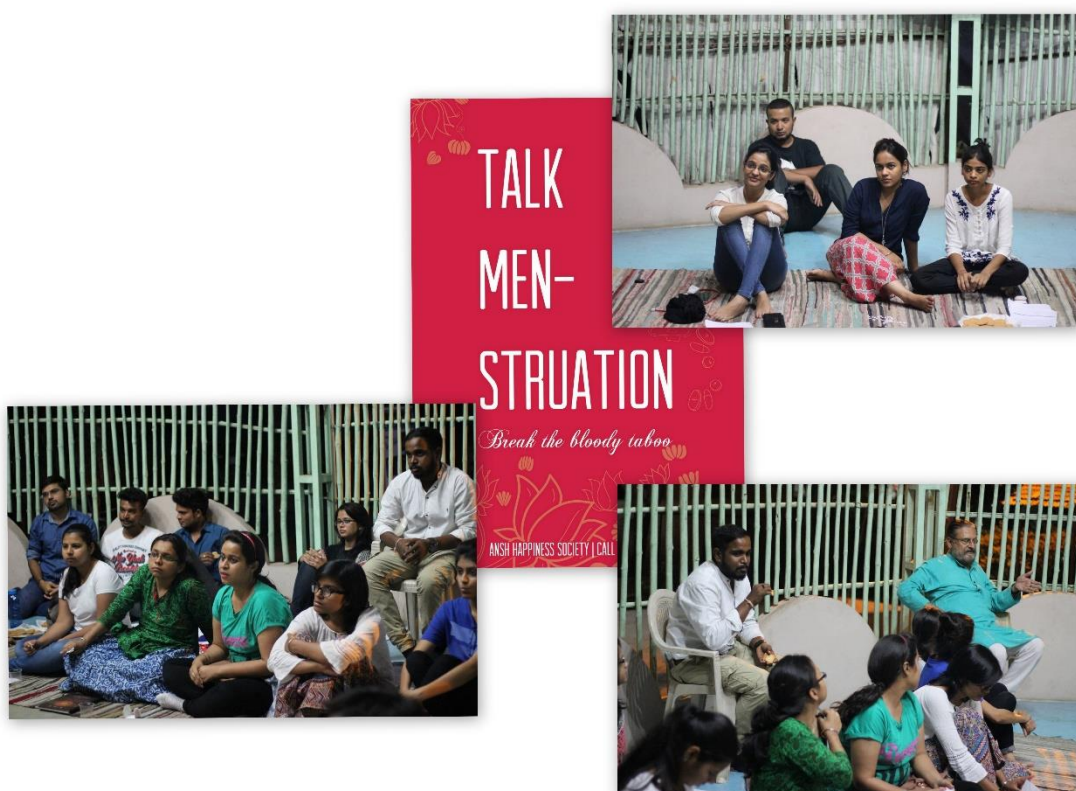

EVENTS – TALK MENSTRUATION

Just a few kilometres from Bhopal, she used a piece of blouse - a traditional Indian woman wear, which had a hook and she died of tetanus and far away in the hills she sleeps in a cow shed and can't enter the kitchen.. in some part of the world the little girl left school as she did not have a small piece of cloth to use or a place to change.. and millions all around - use sand, ash, dry leaves and even plastic sheet.. for them the natural process of MENSTRUATION often becomes a MESS due to lack of awareness and basic facilities to deal with it.

It's time to speak, express and recognise that this is not a WOMEN issue.. it is a HUMAN issue !!

On May 15, 2016 we organized Talk Menstruation at Gandhi Bhawan, Polytechnic Square, Bhopal.

Dr Ritu Nanda, Swastika Chakraborty & Kumud Singh joined us as session expert.

EVENTS – RAKSHABANDHAN

When everyone is celebrating festival of love, care and happiness between brother and sister, we at ANSH Happiness Society celebrated Raksha Bandhan with real Rakshak (s) of our city Bhopal who work even on holidays. No one can match the dedication. Moving police station to station we came across stories which are enough to bring tears in your eyes and think twice before making any perception about police department. There is brother who last celebrated Raksha Bandhan with his sister 8 years ago. When family is no more your priority and work is everything for you then you may be a Police Officer.
